N THE PRICE OF THE L M. SINGER & CO.'S SEWING MACHINES.—B. RANDALL, proprietor of the State of Pennsylvania, the counties of Philadelphia. Erie and Allegheny excepted. The undersigned would respectfully inform the citizens of York, Adams, Cumberland and Laneaster counties, that he will sell Surger's Sewing Machines at reduced prices. Persons desirons of purchasing a good Sewing Machine should by all means purchase one of Singer's, for they are the only machines that will do the work that is required of a Sewing Machine. Call and examine and see for yourselves before purchasing else-where. For beauty they cannot be surpassed and for durability cannot be beat-there being now in use over 15,000 of Singer's Machines which recommends them to be far superior to any other in use. All I ask is an examination of the Machine, and if you have any notion of one you will be certain to buy. Machines of every variety of Singer's on hand. Every family should have one of the Family Machines, for they are certainly a handsome and useful piece of furniture. They are not liable to get out of re pair, and will last you a life time.

Machine Sike, Needles, Thread, Bobbins, Oil, &c., &c., at all times on hand. All orders at tended to with dispatch.

What stays thee from the clouded noons, The sweetness from its proper place? Can trouble live with April days, Or sadness in the summer noons?

SPRING.

Bring orchis, bring the fox-glove spire, The little speedwell's darfing blue, Deep tulips dashed with fiery dew, Laburnums, dropping-wells of fire. O, thou, sew year, delaying long, Delayest the sorrow in my blood, That longs to burst a frozen bud, And flood a fresher throat with song.

Now fades the last long streak of snow; Now burgeous every maze of quick About the flowering square, and thick By ashen roots the violets blow. Now rings the woodland loud and long,

The distance takes a lovelier bue. And drowned in yonder living blue The lark becomes a sightless song. Now dance the lights on lawn and lea,

The flocks are whiter down the vale, And milkier every milky sail On winding stream or distant sea.

Where now the seamew pipes, or dives, In yonder greening gleam, and fly The happy birds, that change their sky, To build and brood, that live their lives.

From land to land; and in my breast Spring wakens too; and my regret Becomes an April violet, And buds and blossoms like the rest.

Miscellaneous.

Two Kinds of Genuine Three Cent

Pieces. It has been currently stated that bogus three cent pieces are as plenty as genuine ones. A Bighampton, New York, banker interest:

I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 22d ult., enclosing two three full uv it." cent pieces, which are both genuine, but of first issued it was required by law to be hat divil likes it." 750 thousandtha' fine. When the law was changed, (March 2, 1850,) and it was required to be struck in standard silver, the same as the other silver coins, it became necessary to distinguish the new issue, and for this purpose a double line was engraved on the die around the star on the obverse; and within the letter C. on the reverse, there was added. above the numerals 111, a sprig of olives and beneath three arrows. Many persons, in noticing the difference between the two issues, suppose one or the other to be spurious, which of course is a mistake. There are counterfeit three cent pieces in circulation, but they are thicker than the genuine.

An Editor in Heaven. A paper published in a neighboring State, after having a long obituary of a deceased brother of the quill, thus, in glowing strains,

"Are we not glad also that such an editor is in Heaven?"

"There the cry of 'more copy,' shall never again full upon his distracted cars. There he shall never be abused any more by his political antagonists, with lies and diffractions that should shame a demon to promulgate. There be shall be no more used as a ladder for the aspiring to kick down as they reach the desired height, and need him no more. There he shall be able to see the immense masses of mind he has moved, all unknowingly and unknown, performing as he has been his weary pilgrimage on earth. There he will find all articles credited, nor a clap of his thunder stolen-and there shall be no horrid typographical errors to set him in a fever. We are glad the editor is in Heaven." Trusting Innocence. A backwoodsman who had nover seen a pair of sugar-tongs, being invited to a tes party, requested a person who unhappily sat near him to give some information respecting its use. "It is a very ingenious instrument," said the cruel wag, "which has been lately invented for the purpose of blowing the nose. their children." Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to with-stand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which derimetes the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause. One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. As we pass through the proceed ings in which we are here engaged, may we be permitted to reach the result which I confidently anticipate, the congratulation of this defendant for the severe ordeal through which he has passed. of the present Governor of Michigan, and Judson, whose daughter ran off with a lume negro. She was simply carrying out the principles of the Republican party, as she learned them in the house of her father. The negro must have felt "perfectly at home" there, where he could at the table, sop his bread in the meat platter, and elsewhere take his dessert from the lips of the daughter:

"It is not our intention to write the bi-ography of the amiable Judson, whose daugher ran away with the lame nigger, but some of the numerous little incidents that come to our knowledge are too good to keep, and we could not refrain from telling them, even if their peculiar zest were not materially increased by the connection above referred to. One of the best of these, illustrating the unadulterated penchant for Ethiopians, is the following: When Governor Wisner was in the midst of the campaign which resulted in his election two months since, he had occasion to visit the premises of the amiable Judson. Dinner hour arrived previous to his departure, and he was invited by the host to stay and take 'pot luck' with them, which, after the manner of politicians, he blandly story about the ringular conduct of an old hen :-- We hear of a most singular freak on the part of a hen belonging to a farmer in the town of Victor, Ontario county, which may interest the curious. Some time since the hen attempted to set, but her nest was broken up constantly, and she had a great deal of trouble. She finally turned her attention to a shed, in which a lot of straw was lying, and in this straw she made a final and desperate effort to establish a nest. It so happened that the same pile of straw had al. so found favor in the sight of a sow, which was about to have pigs, and she being the strongest crowded Biddy out. The hen still continued to hang about the shed, and no sooner were the pigs born than she adopted them, brooding them as well as she was able, calling to them when food was thrown to herand doing in all things as she might be expected to do, were they veritable chickens. She follows her adopted charge about, clucking to them, scratching for them and trying to get selling the canals for an inadequate price, and them to pick up particles of food, the same as be committed upon a human being. It has thus defrauding the State out of the seventy-though she really believed them to be the product of three week's setting. On the part of the porkers, a divided feeling seems to exist; they adhere to their natural mother, as other pigs do, and yet appear to have a sort of regard for their .eathered friend, allowing her to spread herself in the vain attempt to brood them, and yielding to her solicitations to partake of food thrown to her."

Remarkable Suit.

A case has been pending for some time before the Circuit Court of Nottoway, in which a young woman is sucing an old gentleman for breach of promise of marriage. The case comes up at the term commencing to-day, and several members of the legal profession of this city will be present to represent both parties. It is stated, however, that the young lady has recently married a gentleman, whose age is more in keeping with her own. But the case will nevertheless proceed, and as a married woman is unable of herself to property to the first purchasers, I could not conduct a suit. by virtue of the law of the We search the act of Assembly in vain for the land, her husband becomes the plaintiff. ing taken in hand with a switch after having the passage wherein the by a verbal as-This is the first instance on record of one wife. - Petersburg (Va.) O sweet new year, delaying long;

Thou doest expectant nature wrong,

Now fades the last long streak of snow; Now burgeous every maze of quick About the flowering square, and thick By ashen roots the violets blow. Now rings the woodland loud and long,

That longs to burst a frozen bud.

And flood a fresher throat with song.

The distance takes a lovelier hue, And drowned in yonder fiving blue The lark becomes a sightless song. Now dance the lights on lawn and lea, The flocks are whiter down the vale,

And milkfer every milky sail

Becomes an April violet,

On winding stream or distant sea. Where now the seamew pipes, or dives, In yonder greening gleam, and fly The happy birds, that change their sky, To build and brood, that live their lives. From land to land; and in my breast Spring wakens too; and my regret

And buds and blossoms like the rest. Miscellaneous.

Two Kinds of Genuine Three Cont Pieces. It has been currently stated that bogus three cent pieces are as plenty as genuine ones. A Bighampton, New York, banker delphia Mint on the subject and received the following answer, which is of general ininterest: I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 22d ult., enclosing two three cent pieces, which are both genuine, but of different issues. When three cent coin was first issued it was required by law to be but 750 thousandths' fine. When the law was changed, (March 2, 1850,) and it was required to be struck in standard silver, the same as the other silver coins, it became necessary to distinguish the new issue, and for this purpose a double line was engraved on the lie around the star on the obverse: and with in the letter C. on the reverse, there was added, above the numerals 111, a sprig of olives, and beneath three arrows. Many persons, in noticing the difference between the two issues, suppose one or the other to be spurious, which of course is a mistake. There are counterfeit three cent pieces in circulation, but they are thicker than the genuine. An Editor in Heaven. A paper published in a neighboring State, after having a long obituary of a deceased brother of the quill, thus, in glowing strains,

"Are we not glad also that such an editor is in Heaven?" "There the cry of 'more copy,' shall never again fall upon his distracted ears. There he shall never be abused any more by his political antagonists, with lies and detractions that should shame a demon to promulgate. There he shall be no more used as a ladder for the aspiring to kick down as they reach the desired height, and need him no more. There he shall be able to see the immense masses of mind he has moved, all unknowingly and auknown, performing as he has been his weary pilgrimage on earth. There he will find all

Trusting Innocence. A backwoodsman who had never seen a pair of sugar-tongs, being invited to a teal party, requested a person who unhappily sat near him to give some information respecting its use. "It is a very ingenious instrument," said the cruel wag, "which has been lately invented for the purpose of blowing the nose. It is now in use in genteel society, and it is expected that the disgusting custom of using the fingers will be altogether abolished !"-The sugar dish was handed around ; the unfortunate 'lion' seized the tongs and the polite part of the assembly were scandalized at the outre application of the instrument, and

A Sensible Revenge .- A "thrilling tragedy" was enacted in Bangor, Me., the other night. An honest Scotch shoemaker found his wife and a perfidious neighbor as they should not be, and instead of killing them on the spot, dragged them to a table and compelled them to sign a confession, with an agreement to pay the expenses of procuring a divorce. This is the testimony of fermers in Monroe county, N. Y., who have grown it, and have no seed to sell, either as millet, Hungarian grass, or "Honey Blade grass."

Manuring Corn in the Hill. Eds. Co. Gent .- Your paper of Mar. 17th, experiments made by Mr. Barker, of Oak manure to corn. As the result of his experiments he concludes that, for present profit, manuring in the hill is the best. My experiments have not been as varied as his, but such as they are, they have their significance. The spring of '57 I planted a applied in any way to the land. As the re- all times when not professionally engaged. sult I harvested full one-third more corn, and Prof. Nathan R. Smith, Baltimore, Md. twice the bulk of stalks from the manured, Rev. Augustus Webster, D. D., Baltimore Md. that I did from the unmanured. The difference in the result was all owing to the manure, Jacob Reese, Esq., as the land was all of like quality, the corn John K. Longwell, Esq., of the same variety, and the mode of culture | Geo. E. Wampler, Esq., " | Rov. Thomas Bowen, Gettysburg, the same, except as far as manuring was concorned.

Last year, '58, I again planted the same ground, and manured the whole crop in the hill. As the result I harvested 90 bushel baskets of good sound corn, and about 10 of a poorer quality, which I called hog corn, from a piece of ground 21 rods long, and 51 broad, being about three-quarters of an acre.

The soil on which this corn was grown, is a clay loam, underlaid, at the depth of from two to three feet, which a coarse creek gravel, which acts as efficient underdrain.

The kind of manure used was common stable manure from a horse and cow, littered with leaves and sawdust in about equal quantities. This manure was removed from the yard to the field the early part of April, and there laid in piles of some two cords each, from which it was taken at the time of planting, which was about the middle of May, and placed in the hills, at the rate of about two quarts in each hill. It was then covered with dirt about two inches deep and pressed down with the foot, the corn dropped and covered about the usual depth.

I should have said, perhaps, that I furrowed my ground three feet apart each way, and street, near Forney's drug store, and nearly made the hills at the angles where the furrows met.

my potatees and used the same kind of manure as for my corn, placing a small fork full over the seed in each hill, and then covered with earth from two to three inches deep .-The kind of potatoes planted were the red ones, now so common in almost all sections of our country, and from one quarter of an acre I dug 60 bushels. Had no rotten ones. Raymond. Clinton, Oneida co. s. w.

J. R. DANNER,

DAVID ZIEGLER. May 24, 1858.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, dis-ordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing v.ces, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whats ever be its origin, it is hereditary in the con-stitution, descending "from parents to children anto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul cor-ruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitu-tions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withthe attacks of other discusses const quently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not serefulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimntes the human family has its origin directly n this serofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause. One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate vigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in AYER'S

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla. the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this every where prevailing and fatal malady. It is com-bined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as ERUPTUR and SKIN DISEASES, ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, ROSE, OF ENYSIPELAS, PIMPLES, PUSTULES, BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM, AND SALT ICHEUN, SCALD HEAR, KINGWORM, RHEUMATISM, SYPHILITIC and MERCHMAL DISTANCE, DROPSY, DYSPEYSIA, DESILITY, and, indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITTATED OR IMPURE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular numbers and wirtur of this Soveres.

When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to example observation, and where its virues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonry organs that are incident to ear eliment.
